Onderwerp: FW: fundraiser event for Palestine

Hoi [redacted]

Zie onder, dit is wat ik zojuist heb besproken met de organisatoren van de fundraiser event op 22 november. Ik verwacht dat zij zoals gewoonlijk contact zullen leggen met de beveiliging.

Vriendelijke groeten,

Subject: fundraiser event for Palestine

Dear [redacted] and [redacted]

Thanks for making the time just now to discuss the fundraiser event for Palestine you are organizing on 22nd of November. We have discussed the following:

- It is a LU-card only event
- The max number of people on floor 1 with the guards we have on the evening is 150, so please keep track of the number of people and start refusing entrance if the amount of people is getting to large. This is important for reasons of (fire) safety in case something happens
- The normal rules apply regarding Coasters staff (amount of people being sober, floor manager of the evening connects to guards on floor 0, etc.; this went very well in the past few events)
- You will communicate ground rules for the event with the attendees. This includes the rule that any anti-semitic, racist or hate speech (or chanting or singing or whatever) is not tolerated. It is a concert and fundraiser, not a demonstration. Please make clear that you will enforce these groundrules (and also do enforce it by removing students from the building who don't abide).
- We discussed that, although a fundraiser for Palestine is by definition taking a stance in the matter, you are aware of the fact that there may be students living in AvB who currently are in a very difficult situation, torn between their personal religious or national background, their emotions about the atrocities on both sides, and their own position on the war. You are aware that there are students (and staff) who currently feel very ill at ease, even physically unsafe. A large crowd can be very intimidating. Where they normally could avoid attending a Palestine event, now this event is taking place right below their home which makes it impossible to avoid. I have not spoken to any students about this matter, but it would be good to show that you are doing what you can to enforce the ground rules and make the event a success. We've discussed that you would reach out to the senior RA and discuss with her what we've discussed here, inviting students who are worried or upset to contact me or [redacted] or yourselves.

[redacted] The 'teach-in' in the Auditorium on Monday 13th was a good start to show that it is possible to organize events that address the war and at the same time are civil and well-organized, and a series of these teach-ins is currently planned. I hope LUC can keep showing that these events are possible in a good way; this will also help the organizers of events to come.

Best regards,

 J
